- 7. List the dates you were admitted to the bar of any state and any lapses or terminations of membership. Please explain the reason for any lapse or termination of membership.

Iowa, 2003

- 8. Describe the general character of your legal experience, dividing it into periods with dates if its character has changed over the years, including:
- a. A description of your typical clients and the areas of the law in which you have focused, including the approximate percentage of time spent in each area of practice.
 - b. The approximate percentage of your practice that has been in areas other than appearance before courts or other tribunals and a description of the nature of that practice.
 - c. The approximate percentage of your practice that involved litigation in court or other tribunals.
 - d. The approximate percentage of your litigation that was: Administrative, Civil, and Criminal.
 - e. The approximate number of cases or contested matters you tried (rather than settled) in the last 10 years, indicating whether you were sole counsel, chief counsel, or associate counsel, and whether the matter was tried to a jury or directly to the court or other tribunal. If desired, you may also provide separate data for experience beyond the last 10 years.
 - f. The approximate number of appeals in which you participated within the last 10 years, indicating whether you were sole counsel, chief counsel, or associate counsel. If desired, you may also provide separate data for experience beyond the last 10 years.

I have engaged in the private practice of law my entire career, with a focus on civil and criminal trials and appeals. Over my career my practice has largely been divided between civil cases (approximately 70 percent), criminal cases (approximately 20 percent), and administrative and professional licensure matters (approximately 10 percent). As a percentage of practice by tribunal, while it varies considerably by year, I would estimate 60% state court, 30% federal court, and 10% administrative or arbitration forums. In the last ten years, I have tried approximately 25 cases or contested matters, including 5 jury trials, serving as lead counsel for my client in all but three or four. In the last ten years, I have participated in slightly more than 20 appeals in state and federal court, of which I was lead counsel in approximately two-thirds.

In my civil litigation practice, I have represented clients in state and federal courts in a broad array of matters, including complex contract disputes, shareholder litigation, banking and lending litigation, estate and trust litigation, and professional liability litigation. My clients cut across a broad expanse of industries, including financial services, biotechnology, health care, agriculture, energy, tax, real estate, and manufacturing. My clients include a mix of individuals, closely held Iowa companies, and national and international corporations.

In my criminal practice, I have represented individuals and companies at the state, federal, and administrative levels on matters charging, among many others, financial crimes, health care fraud, consumer fraud, environmental crimes, and securities fraud. I also represent indigent clients in criminal appeals before the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals by court appointment under the Criminal Justice Act in cases that include, for example, charges involving drug distribution and unlawful possession of firearms. I previously represented indigent clients by court appointment in criminal matters in federal district court and in Iowa state district court.

In my administrative practice, I have frequently represented attorneys in professional ethics cases brought by the Iowa Attorney Disciplinary Board, and many other clients in professional licensure matters before other professional and governmental boards. I have also represented clients before the Iowa Utilities Board.

Separately, I have represented the State of Iowa or its subdivisions on matters in which the Iowa Attorney General has recused or in which special expertise was sought. These engagements require approval by the Executive Council of Iowa (consisting of the Governor, Secretary of State, State Treasurer, Secretary of Agriculture, and State Auditor).

- 9. Describe your pro bono work over at least the past 10 years, including:
- a. Approximate number of pro bono cases you've handled.
 - b. Average number of hours of pro bono service per year.
 - c. Types of pro bono cases.

My pro bono work has involved both service to indigent legal services organizations and other non-profit boards and cabinets, and direct legal services to indigent clients.

I've had significant involvement with Iowa Legal Aid, which is a non-profit legal services provider for indigent persons with ten offices around the state. I began my volunteer work with Iowa Legal Aid as an intake attorney answering phones and providing legal advice. After several years serving on fundraising and advisory committees, I was appointed to the Iowa Legal Aid Board of Directors, where I've served on the Executive Committee and currently serve as Board President. I have been involved in almost all facets of the organization's operation over time, and through my work have attempted to advance Iowa Legal Aid's mission to ensure access to justice for all Iowans. I also had significant involvement in representation of clients through the Polk County Bar Association's Latino Outreach Clinic. I provided advice at the clinics and took on many representations for clients that had ongoing litigation needs, including representation in court matters. On average, I would estimate I provide in excess of 100 hours of pro bono work each year.

Matter 1: AFSCME Council 61 v. State, 928 N.W.2d 21 (Iowa 2019)

- a. AFSCME Iowa Council 61, et al., v. State of Iowa, et al., Iowa Supreme Court, Case No. 17-841.
- b. I represented the State of Iowa in two high-profile lawsuits filed by Iowa's largest public employee unions contesting the Legislature's sweeping changes to Iowa's public employee collective bargaining statute in 2017. The Iowa Attorney General recused based on a conflict of interest. In the AFSCME matter, the public employee union alleged, among other things, that the statutory amendments violated the equal protection clause of the Iowa constitution and the First Amendment to the United States Constitution. We argued on behalf of the State that the amendments to the collective bargaining statute were valid, Constitutional policy decisions by the Legislature. The district court granted the State's motion for summary judgment. The union appealed to the Iowa Supreme Court. The case and oral argument garnered considerable media attention. The Iowa Supreme Court affirmed the district court ruling.

- c. The Iowa Supreme Court further clarified the scope of Constitutional protections under the Equal Protection clause of the Iowa Constitution.
- d. The State of Iowa and the Iowa Public Employee Relations Board
- e. I served as lead counsel, participated in researching and drafting the briefs, and argued the case both in the district court and before the Iowa Supreme Court.
- f. February 2017 to June 2019
- g. The Iowa Supreme Court affirmed the district court ruling in favor of the State.
- h. Co-counsel: Michael R. Reck, Kelsey J. Knowles, Espnola F. Cartmill

- i. Opposing counsel: Mark Hedberg and Sarah M. Baumgartner

Matter 2: United States v. Trogdon, 789 F.3d 907, 908 (8th Cir. 2015)

- a. United States v. Jeremy Trogdon, Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals (Case No. 14-2875)
- b. I represented Jeremy Trogdon by court appointment under the Criminal Justice Act in the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals. Mr. Trogdon sought to challenge his conviction to possession of a firearm as a felon. The district court denied Mr. Trogdon's motion to suppress evidence, and on appeal I urged the Eighth Circuit to overturn the district court's denial because the police lacked reasonable, articulable suspicion for the stop-and-frisk that led to the discovery of the weapon and the associated finding of guilt.
- c. The case presented unique Fourth Amendment search-and-seizure issues involving the nature of a trespass giving rise to an individual's detention by law enforcement.
- d. Jeremy Trogdon
- e. I served as sole counsel on the appeal and argued the matter before the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals.
- f. September 2014 to September 2015

- g. The Eighth Circuit affirmed the district court's ruling.
- h. Co-counsel: None.
- i. Opposing counsel: Mikaela Jo Shotwell, Assistant United States Attorney
Des Moines, Iowa
- j. Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals

Matter 3: Calkins v. Brandt, No. EQCE081752, 2019 WL 1222916, at *1 (Iowa Dist. Ct. Jan. 26, 2019)

- a. Russell W. Calkins III v. Donald R. Brandt, CTI Holdings, Inc., Claim Technologies Incorporated, and CTI Administrators, Inc., Iowa Specialty Business Court, Case No. EQCE081752.
- b. I represented Calkins, a minority shareholder in a closely held business in a shareholder oppression and breach of fiduciary duty action. Calkins alleged majority-owner Brandt, to keep Brandt's son employed at a high salary despite financial challenges within the business, engaged in squeeze-out techniques of Calkins from the business. Brandt later fired Calkins when Calkins refused a buyout proposal, thus eliminating any meaningful, ongoing financial benefit Calkins would receive from the corporation. The matter went to trial before the Iowa Specialty Business Court in October 2018. The Court found shareholder oppression and breach of fiduciary duty and entered judgment in Calkins' favor.
- c. This case was the first instance of a minority shareholder prevailing in a shareholder oppression action in Iowa since the Iowa Supreme Court put in place the "reasonable expectations" standard in 2013. This case also presented directly to an Iowa court for the first time a question of whether a minority shareholder can maintain damages based on a reasonable expectation of continued at-will employment. That question became the subject of an article I co-authored in the Drake Law Review published in September 2019.
- d. Russell Calkins
- e. I served as lead counsel throughout the case, including the trial and post-trial motions.
- f. November 2016 to July 2019
- g. The Iowa Business Court found oppression and breach of fiduciary duty and entered judgment in Calkins' favor in an amount (including pre- and post-judgment interest and attorney fees assessed against the Defendants) in excess of $1.4 million. The judgment was not appealed.

- h. Co-counsel: Christopher J. Jessen
Des Moines, Iowa
- i. Opposing counsel: Benjamin Roach and Katherine Graham
Des Moines, Iowa
- j. Business Court Judge Lawrence McLellan, Polk County

13. Describe how your non-litigation legal experience, if any, would enhance your ability to serve as a judge.

An important component of my practice involves advising clients on their legal rights outside the litigation context. I frequently counsel clients on their legal rights under state or federal law on matters that do not involve court proceedings. For example, I regularly advise the National Pork Board on statutory and contractual compliance issues surrounding its pork promotion activities unrelated to any litigation. Counseling clients on their legal rights and obligations before any problems arise frequently avoids litigation and its attendant costs and disruptions to clients.

In conjunction with my representation of attorneys in ethics matters, I frequently provide counsel to lawyers in non-litigated matters concerning compliance with the Iowa Rules of Professional Conduct. The Iowa Supreme Court oversees all attorney discipline, and my counseling on attorney ethic matters has provided me considerable experience in addressing attorney ethics issues potentially useful in the Iowa Supreme Court's adjudication of attorney disciplinary matters.

14. If you have ever held public office or have you ever been a candidate for public office, describe the public office held or sought, the location of the public office, and the dates of service.

I have never been a candidate for elected office. In 2017, I was one of three nominees submitted to the White House for the appointment of United States Attorney for the Southern District of Iowa. Another nominee ultimately was selected.

15. If you are currently an officer, director, partner, sole proprietor, or otherwise engaged in the management of any business enterprise or nonprofit organization other than a law practice, provide the following information about your position(s) and title(s):

27. Explain why you are seeking this judicial position.

I am drawn to the critical public service role our Supreme Court fulfills in ensuring the fair and efficient delivery of justice to all. I believe I have a diverse collection of experiences and abilities that will enable me to be a productive contributor on the Court, and I believe my contributions on the Court can be of service to the public.

While in private practice I have endeavored to apply my abilities and work ethic serving in various roles with public service components. But in my view service on the Iowa Supreme Court presents a far greater opportunity to apply my skills in serving the public through administering equal justice under the law.

28. Explain how your appointment would enhance the court.

The Supreme Court is a court of general jurisdiction that hears cases of all types, and in my legal career I have been a generalist handling trials and appeals in a diverse array of civil and criminal matters. I believe the breadth, scope, and intensity of my practice have prepared me to cut quickly to the critical points in cases that would come before the Court.

My practice has permitted me continuous opportunities to hone my brief writing. I have endeavored to make my briefs simple, direct, and addressed to intelligent generalist judges. I would attempt to bring similar qualities of simplicity and clarity in judicial opinions for the parties and attorneys.

I've represented a diverse set of clients from across Iowa and beyond. This includes some of our wealthiest and most powerful citizens in complex commercial cases, and some of our most destitute and powerless citizens in appointed criminal defense cases. From large corporations, to small closely held businesses, to individuals; from immigrants, to farmers, to social workers, to CEOs; I have given my best efforts on behalf of all of them, and would continue to do so if given the high honor of serving on the Supreme Court.

I have worked hard to promote and improve access to justice in Iowa to ensure our justice system delivers outcomes that are fair and accessible to all, regardless of wealth or status. I believe I can help advance the Supreme Court's considerable efforts and progress in this critical area—improving accessibility, ensuring fairness, and increasing efficiency—if appointed to serve on the Court.

I have held the highest leadership positions in significant business, state, and non-profit organizations, including the Iowa Lottery Authority (Board President), Iowa Legal Aid (Board President), Central Iowa Shelter & Services (largest homeless shelter in Iowa) (Board President), Polk County Homeless Continuum of Care (Board Chair), Bull Moose Club (President), ISBA YLD (President), and the Belin McCormick law firm (President). I believe my diverse collection of leadership experiences positions me well to assist in leading the Iowa Judicial Branch if appointed to serve on the Court.

29. Provide any additional information that you believe the Commission or the Governor should know in considering your application.
